

Unbreakable – Acrostic Poem

Unleash the voice bottled inside Next to the sword to defend your kin Bend every rule battered into your mind Render your enemies the weaker pawn Enter the satisfaction of success Allow yourself to calm and regroup Kindle the relationship with those wronged Avoid repeating your past mistakes Build your castle where all are welcome Let memories define who you wish to be End each moment with a lesson learned

War Resolution – Free Verse Poem blankets of animosity surge within the depths gripping like a growing vine around the flesh creating the base of open hunting season vulnerability seasoned by the poisonous text arrows fly towards the heavens piercing its target without hesitation billowing the flames within the soul opening the floodgates for backlash it is time to retaliate and strap on the guns returning everything that was received bangs flashes blood bones falling crashing blooming to new movement

Silent Company - Haiku

the whisper tingles igniting epiphany rising from ashes

Nine Months – Free Verse

Nine months your family prepared No it's more like ten They bought your crib and clothes and food
No, more like their friends did Painted your room blue, pink, yellow Fought over names and daily routines Your presence brings them happiness Opens their world to a new view Tests their love and devotion for each other Adding to the family of their dreams
You cry all night and sleep all day
Just for a moment of their endless attention
You are the center of their world
And you know how to use your power It's you their precious baby girl Who they will love and hate with self-reflection